

Middle Ages Research Project

Introduction:

Hear ye, hear ye, loyal citizens of Room D8 !

The Queen has decreed that her loyal subjects select a topic relating to the Middle Ages. The topic they choose should be one that they have a genuine interest in and that they will enjoy learning about for their research project.

Her Majesty suggests the following topics:

Castles	Falconry and Hunting
Cathedrals	Joan of Arc
Knights	Charlemagne
Armor	William the Conqueror
Food and Feasts	Kings and Queens
Vikings	Music, Art, and Dance
Daily Life in the Middle Ages	Medicine
The Black Death	Clothing
Feudalism	Education
Monks and Monasteries	Richard the Lion Hearted
King Arthur	Catherine of Aragon
Myths and Legends	Eleanor of Aquitaine
Medieval Inventions	Queen Isabella
The Crusades	Geoffrey Chaucer
Medieval Games and Entertainment	Weapons and Wars

The Queen is also open to appropriate ideas from her loyal subjects!

The Task:

Upon having your topic approved, you will explain why you chose your topic. Then, you will write down 3 questions about your topic that you want to know about. After doing this, you will research your subject and begin the process of writing a research book about your topic.

The final project will be a book, consisting of the following elements:

- ❖ INTRODUCTION
- ❖ THREE CHAPTERS
 - Each chapter must be a minimum of 2 paragraphs.
 - Chapters must include visual elements(pictures, graphics, charts)
- ❖ CONCLUSION

Resources:

During class time, you will begin to gather information from websites and written sources. Any information from these resources will need to be correctly cited.
